FORRESTER®

Through a customer interview and data aggregation, Forrester concluded that UKG Ready has the following three-year financial impact.

“The user accessibility has been really responsibility-changing for our supervisors. They now have the data to manage their teams more effectively. They’re even freed up to spend more time with our members.”

VOICE OF THE CUSTOMER

“We had to pull multiple reports [from our HRIS system], then sort them, count them, and combine them. Now it’s really just a click of a button in UKG Ready.”

“We used to have two payroll specialists working at least three 12-hour days every pay period to process payroll; now one does it in a regular day and a half and the other can work on something else.”

“I knew we would need a good partner because we have a small team, and this would be so new for them. We liked UKG’s support because it’s pod-based, so we always work with people who know our business.”
